

This gift from me to you will provide crucial dementia support...

...to carers like Emma

Around her 80th birthday, Emma's mother, Nancy, was diagnosed with mixed dementia. Eventually, Emma made the difficult decision to move Nancy into a home, where there was an Admiral Nurse, Linda. Emma says: "I sat down with Linda and told her everything. I could have wept with relief at her understanding and compassion."

"Linda was there for such key moments; seeing my mother for who she was and what she needed, supporting her following a stroke, then supporting me when she died and was finally at peace."

"Admiral Nurses' knowledge and understanding of dementia is at a completely different level, I cannot thank them enough."

To

£5 could cover the telephone costs of two families calling our free Helpline, whenever they need support. The Helpline is staffed by specialist dementia Admiral Nurses who have the knowledge and experience to understand the situation and suggest answers that can be hard to find elsewhere.

Happy Christmas and thank you
